Welcome to the WRDTP Scholarship Awards Application Guidance session.

We will begin the session with introductions and some slides from the WRDTP Director. We will mute all participant cameras and microphones during the presentation. We will also disable the chat function until the end of the presentation.

There will be time for questions at the end of the presentation. You will be able to ask questions using the raise your hand function (you will need to enable your microphone for this, and you can choose to share your webcam if you wish) or the chat function.
Pathway and AQM Awards
2023-2024

White Rose Doctoral Training Partnership

Professor Felicity Matthews, WRDTP Director
Dr Andy Bell, WRDTP AQM Director
Charlotte Massarella, WRDTP Manager
Charlotte Smith, WRDTP Scholarships and Funding Officer
About the WRDTP

• One of 14 DTPs commissioned from 2017 for 6 years by the ESRC. Its partners are Leeds, Sheffield, York, Sheffield Hallam, Bradford, Hull and MMU.

• Each year, we offer a range of funded studentships. There are 59 studentships on offer for 2023/4 entry: 45 Pathway Awards, 4 AQM Awards, 10 Collaborative Awards.

• The WRDTP is committed to championing excellent research that addresses society’s most pressing problems, and to nurturing the next generation of researchers.

• Our graduates forge meaningful careers within academia and beyond, using the many discipline-specific and transferrable skills they have acquired through their studies.
What’s on offer
Pathway Awards

• 45 Pathway Awards available across the WRDTP, incorporating 2 x Interdisciplinary Research Awards and 2 x WRDTP/Stuart Hall Foundation Awards for Black British students.

• Studentships can be either a 1+3 (includes an integrated MA in Social Research) or +3 award (PhD only).

• Studentships can be awarded on a part-time or full-time basis. We welcome applications from Home and International students.

• Includes payment of tuition fees, plus a stipend to support living costs, currently worth £17,668 per year. Students will also have access to other pots of money to support their research and development.

• Pathway Awards are student-led. The student develops their own research proposal, with help from potential supervisors.
Stuart Hall Foundation Awards

• The WRDTP is delighted to be able to work with the Stuart Hall Foundation (SHF) to support two studentships for Black British applicants. The WRDTP is keen to start addressing historic structural inequalities in education through its partnership with SHF, and welcome applications from Black British applicants.

• SHF awards are open to Black British students (Black or Black British African, Black or Black British Caribbean, Black or Black British other or Mixed Black or Black British). Applicants will self-identify and sign a disclaimer to the effect that the information they provide is correct.

• There is a separate information session for SHF awards on 26 October – sign up via the WRDTP website.
AQM Awards

• 4 AQM awards available across the WRDTP.

• Studentships can be either a 1+3 (includes an integrated MA in Social Research) or +3 award (PhD only).

• Studentships can be awarded on a part-time or full-time basis. We welcome applications from Home and International students.

• Includes payment of tuition fees, plus a stipend to support living costs, currently worth £17,668 per year; and an enhanced stipend to encourage students to undertake training in advanced quantitative methods and to apply this in their PhD research and beyond. Students will also have access to other pots of money to support their research and development.

• AQM Awards are student-led. The student develops their own research proposal, with help from potential supervisors.
IMPORTANT!

- Students do not apply directly to the WRDTP for a studentship. All applications are made by the university itself, who provide the WRDTP with a pack of information in support of the student’s application.

- The final deadline for students to apply to their university for a place on the PhD programme is 17:00 on 25 January 2023. PLEASE NOTE: Each of our partner universities have slightly different application systems, so depending on where you choose to apply, you may be asked to apply for studentship funding at the same time as your PhD application and via the same application form, or via a separate scholarships application system, or to apply for funding only after you have a study place confirmed.

- We strongly recommend checking with your chosen department/school to confirm your local application process, and any local deadlines, at the earliest opportunity.

- Applicants must observe any processes or deadlines that the individual department, school or university has in place for assessing applications, so applicants are advised to make contact with their school or department at an early stage to discuss their application. Late applications are not accepted.
International Students

• International students are eligible for all UKRI-funded postgraduate studentships.

• UKRI limits the proportion of international students appointed each year through individual doctoral training programmes to 30 percent of the total. For the WRDTP this equates to 14 awards in total across the Pathway and AQM competitions.

• If you are an international applicant, you should speak to your supervisors as soon as possible about the process for nominating international candidates for a WRDTP studentship.

• Schools/departments should speak to their institution’s WRDTP AQC member(s) to confirm the process for nominating international candidates for a WRDTP studentship.
What we’re after Excellence

• We seek to champion cutting-edge research in the social sciences that addresses some of the world’s most pressing problems.

• An excellent application will have:
  • Very clear explanation of the originality of the project, the contribution it will make to advance knowledge, and the project’s significance
  • Very clear articulation of the research design, methods and data sources
  • Very clear consideration of any research ethics issues
  • For AQM Awards specifically, ensure the ‘very clear articulation of the AQM methodology, methods and data sources’.

• Remember that the application will not necessarily be assessed by a subject specialist.
Interdisciplinarity

• To support this ambition, our students are afforded a wide range of discipline-specific, generic and advanced research training opportunities. They graduate as experts in how to conduct research, as well as experts on their chosen topic.

• Reflecting our emphasis on tackling the greatest challenges facing global society, the WRDTP is organised around seven Thematic Interdisciplinary Training Pathways. These are detailed in full on the website, and applications must be able to articulate their fit with at least one of these pathways.
WRDTP Interdisciplinary Pathways

- WRDTP’s Pathways are an organisational expression of its priorities, and it is vital that projects are clearly aligned with these:
  - Cities, Environment, and Liveability (CEL)
  - Security, Conflict, and Justice (SCJ)
  - Education, Childhood, and Youth (ECY)
  - Data, Communication, and New Technologies (DCT)
  - Wellbeing, Health, and Communities (WHC)
  - Sustainable Growth, Management, and Economic Productivity (SMP)
  - Civil Society, Development, and Democracy (CDD)

- Pathways are intended to be interdisciplinary and cross-cutting, moving beyond departmental or disciplinary silos.
Collaboration and impact

• The WRDTP is committed to funding research that has an impact beyond academia, for example through collaboration with a non-academic partner or through knowledge exchange.

• All applications should have a clear sense of the potential impact of their research, along with a strategy for realising this impact. This could include working with a non-academic partner to produce the research, who may be able to support the research through financial or ‘in-kind’ support (e.g. an internship, placement opportunity, etc.).

• Collaboration is also important for your future career. It has many benefits, such as generating research impact, broadening research networks, and opening up exciting career opportunities beyond academia.
Scoring criteria

• Student excellence (1-5, double weighted)
• Project excellence (1-5, double weighted)
• Pathway excellence (1-5)
• Collaborative excellence (1-5)
• Training excellence (y/n)
• COVID-19 resilience (y/n)
• Fundability (y/n)
How to apply
How to apply

1. Work with your department or school to identify a potential supervisor and develop your research proposal. Attend an information session for applicants. Book via the 'How to apply' section on: https://wrdtp.ac.uk/studentships

2. Ensure you have submitted an application for a PhD study place by 17:00, 25 January 2023 in order to be considered for an ESRC WRDTP PhD studentship. Your department/school will assess your application and then inform you if you are being nominated to the ESRC for a studentship.

3. If you are successful in being nominated, your department or school will compile a nomination pack on your behalf. Nominations will be sent to the WRDTP by departments/schools by 17:00, 22 February 2023.

4. All nominations to the WRDTP are then assessed by senior academic staff from all of our partner universities during March 2023. Once confirmed, the award winners will be announced by 21 April 2023. Your university will contact you to let you know if you have been successful.
